in particular?

Don't wear yourself out digging through piles of scientific journals, only to find that the one you need has been lent out and isn't available. Just take a look at LINK.

Get online information first.

LINK is the user-friendly information service providing electronic access to all journals – both purely electronic and online versions of print journals – published by the Springer group of companies.

LINK includes an alerting service, online first articles, links to external databases, multimedia supplements and a powerful search engine.

LINK contains an increasing number of electronic books, moderated discussion forums, conference schedules and a worldwide customer service.

Abstracts, TOCs, LINK Search, LINK Alert, and more are available to everyone free of charge.

Access to the full text is only available to subscribers of the print version of a journal. We offer:

- Personal LINK Licence*: Access for one named individual user
- Institutional Basic LINK Licence*: Access for 3 simultaneous users
- * In 2000 access fee included in annual subscription rate of the print journal.
- Institutional Unlimited LINK Licence: Available at a surcharge
